Broad, weeping shape with an irregular habit and very pendulous branches. This Japanese cultivar grows naturally as a shrub, attaining a height of about 1 m and a width of 3 m. If the central leader is grown with stake support, the tree can grow several metres high. The sprouting leaf is light yellow-green, turning slightly glossy dark green in summer and buttery yellow in autumn. Blossoms around February/March with pendent, light yellow flowers measuring about 2 cm. They have a slight fragrance. 'Pendula' is the only Hamamelis with a weeping growth pattern and flowers of any decorative value.
